

I am very pleased to present the program for The Attic's 2013 Sampler Symposium, 5 PM Friday, Jan 18 ~ 4 PM Sunday, Jan 20 (daily schedule 9-4) and I am absolutely thrilled with our faculty. I hope you are as well!

Our faculty:

- Lorraine Mootz, Celle, Germany, co-author of Samplers and Designs: Three Centuries of European Samplers
- Vickie Jennett of NeedleWorkPress
- Sherri Jones of Patrick's Woods
- Joanne Martin Lukacher, author of Imitation and Improvement: The Norfolk Sampler Tradition

(Registration is full for this Symposium; waiting list only.) The $450 fee includes a Friday night light supper; continental breakfast, lunch, and breaks Saturday and Sunday; 2 reproduction sampler charts from Lorraine Mootz that are exclusive to workshop attendees; kit for Vickie Jennett's workshop as well as for Sherri Jones' Sunday workshop. Registration is limited due to the size of the room. A non-refundable deposit of $50 is due upon registration. The balance will be due upon issuance of the pre-stitching kits for Vickie's workshop. Announcement of when the kits are ready for mailing will be in a future newsletter. The event will again be held at Hyatt Place Mesa, where they have available an Attic Needlework room block with prices of $119 for King rooms and $129 for Queen/Queen rooms. Here is their Website. Free shuttle service to the shop is provided (airport transportation is not), so renting a car is really not necessary.

Lorraine will present two slide lectures and several charted samplers from her collection:

 Sajou, School, and Plain Sewing Samplers Towards the end of the 19th century, the working of fine samplers in many elaborate stitches had given way to the often red alphabet marking samplers made by girls in school during their required needlework instruction. While alphabets and numbers dominated, motifs from the popular accordion-folded pattern booklets were often scattered around the samplers or grouped at the bottom or top. Along with marking in cross and satin stitch, these young hands learned to knit, crochet, darn, sew, patch, and mend with astounding excellence. Lorraine will be showing slides from her collection of early to later alphabet samplers, pattern booklets, instructional manuals for teachers, and plain sewing samplers from France, Germany, England, and the United States. To accompany her lecture she has reproduced Marguerite Dumas' 1895 French school sampler with 4 alphabets, numbers from 1-0, four different borders, as well as some of the popular Sajou motifs from the little pattern booklets so popular around the turn of the century. Also reproduced and available to attendees will be charts of two other French schoolgirl samplers, one from Marguerite's daughter Claudia Morel 1927 and one from F. Potherat 1891.

 Decorated Towels on Both Sides of the Atlantic This is a slide lecture on European and Pennsylvania German decorated towels from Lorraine's collection. Discussed is where the towels were made, why they were made, what motifs are found on the various decorated towels as well as their relation to samplers. (An aside: according to Ellen Gehret it is a no-no to say "show towel" as that is a relatively new term never used by the Pennsylvania Germans.)

Vickie LoPiccolo Jennett's "A Token of Friendship" graced the cover of the Spring 2003 Sampler & Antique Needlework Quarterly. This charming project fits so perfectly with Lorraine's slide lecture that we asked Vickie to present a workshop on the construction of her "little book." Here's what she says about this project: *I have always loved letters in all shapes and forms. So, when I stumbled upon a tiny "pattern book" in a South Dakota antiques shop, my curiosity was piqued. Exactly 10 years ago I was delving into a subject new to me and to many other 21st-century needleworkers. I had not yet met Lori Mootz, nor been exposed to her wealth of expertise. What I did have, though, was a dogged determination to study and recreate one of these books that blended my two passions: letters and needlework. I took the liberty of creating a pattern; took advantage of several friends (no, I still don't stitch on 40ct linen) and managed to piece together a precious little project that found its way to the cover of Sampler and Antique Needlework Quarterly. You would have thought I made the cover of The Rolling Stone. Fact of the matter, that article opened the door to countless opportunities to write about something I loved instead of just completing writing assignments. I am as delighted today to bring you this project as I was 10 years ago when it appeared in SANQ. If you complete the stitching for A Token of Friendship, you will walk away from this class with your very own completed fold-out book. Stitches are mostly cross stitch with limited long-arm cross, backstitch, and a nun's stitch border. Even if you don't complete the stitching, you can complete the book and add your stitched piece (or the mini-project of your choice.)*

Joanne Martin Lukacher, author of a new book, Imitation and Improvement: The Norfolk Sampler Tradition, available in February 2013, will present a lecture on a distinctive body of samplers executed by the girls of Norfolk during a dramatic time of social and cultural change in late 18th-century Britain. The motifs and style of these samplers reveal a rich engagement with textile craft and industry that was both regional and international in scope. These works are analyzed for their exquisite beauty and skill and for the civic, moral, and educational values that they embodied in Norfolk society from 1730 to 1830. By closely studying the intricate and distinguishing features of these samplers, Ms. Lukacher opens up remarkable vistas onto a complex social landscape and the significant and primary place of textile art within it.

A sneak peek at the stunning sampler design from In the Company of Friends included within Ms. Lukacher's book.
